Mesh Networks

Hello friends! Have you heard of mesh networks? Chris tends to be the “go to” person in the office for techie ideas, so we have been using one there for a few years now and love it! They have become understandably more popular, so we thought we would share this informative piece with you. Spoiler alert, if you currently have perfect Wi-Fi and no dead zones in your home, you can likely skip this article.

For the rest of us who have slow or no Wi-Fi in parts of our homes or offices, then the following is a must read! Mesh networks are simple to set-up and use and they provide great Wi-Fi. We have purchased the Google product but we understand they are all quite good. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to Chris. Happy Friday!
